

EMERGENCY WATER SERVICE

Alliance Restoration, Inc

www.AllianceRestoration.com

Thank you for choosing Alliance Restoration to provide emergency services for your water damage. We understand that experiencing water damage can be difficult, but rest assured you have selected the right people to do the job. This is most likely your first water loss. However, for Alliance Restoration, this is a process we have done numerous times. Years of experience in returning homes and business back to normal and helping families and individuals just like you make us the best choice for emergency services. The following information is a checklist of things that may need to be done to restore and protect your property and a brief description of why they need to be done.

While not all of the items will apply, this information will help you understand the procedures in restoring your home or business. Our water damage technician will walk you through this list. Feel free to ask questions or consult the frequently asked questions in the last section of this brochure.
